

With "Hello," I promise you.

Please hold me accountable to my VALUES.

So you can be more creative, I will...

...listen. The answers you seek will be heard in your voice.

...amplify humanity. Let's enrich our thinking with divergent views.

...WONDER. I'll ask questions, and question your answers.

...share my skills. All my work is rights free. Help yourself.

...take creative risks. I'll be vulnerable and fail fast.

To build community, I will...

...welcome you. You won't be alone, unless you choose solitude.

...honor dignity. I'll trust, apologize, forgive, respect, and credit. ♠

...keep your secrets. I won't tell stories that aren't mine to tell. ♣

...show COMPASSION. I won't try to rescue you from your emotions.

...model leadership. I'll experiment in our test kitchen for the half-baked.

Because life is short, I will...

...strengthen myself through service to others. ♦

...seek JUSTICE. Tzedek tzedek tirdof. I will check my privilege.

...do only what only I can do. It's a short list. ♥

...attend to you when we are together. But I am not in this for you. My care is for the people you influence. I am in this for them.

...work hard, healthily. I'll help others and rest on my beloved's pillow.

...rest while working. Equanimity.

...learn and evolve.

...be worthy. I enjoy the admiration of our children.

...make you laugh. That's not wasting time. You need to laugh.

May you have peace.

I wish you good health, happiness, shalom (a sense of completeness), and mindful engagement, surrounded by kind people who love you.

And if we meet in a peer group,...

...I will suggest these norms.

9 Norms: Our Promises

The promises we make upon sitting here.

I attend. My presence is critical.

I deserve trust. I don't breach confidentiality. Your story isn't mine to tell, unless permitted.

I turn on. I pay attention. I ignore interruptions, except as declared.

I speak up. My voice is my contribution.

SILENCE = 100% AGREEMENT

I offer deep issues. I am always ready with my top 5% and bottom 5%.

I rally. I respond to you. I work to join your Tiger Team. I won't silently watch you fail.

I act. I do not unnecessarily hesitate with the input from the group. No whining.

I see you as a peer. I value your input and vulnerability equally among our peers. I respect your right to choose your course. I will question your answers with agenda-free advice.

I enjoy life. Business and life are serious, and must be fun and rewarding. Help me be humble, laugh at myself, and enjoy the ride. (But, please, know badinage.)
